We are thrilled at your youthful devotion and are happy to know that you have remembered the creator "in the days of your youth." (Eccle. 12:1.) Please feel free to call on us at anytime you are in need of help.

Dear Jeannie:

Everyone at the Broad Street Church is thrilled at your recent decision to become a Christian. Your baptism into Christ not only assured you remission of all past sins but created for you a living relationship with Christ and God. This means that as each new day comes, you will redetermine to live in harmony with the will of God and with the wishes of Christ. As you make mistakes or as you uncover weaknesses from time to time, your wonderful privilege is of going to God in prayer asking for forgiveness. (Acts 8:22.)

The following brief suggestions, I believe, will assist you in your spiritual growth as a new Christian, (II Pet. 3:18.): First, it will be imperative that you attend every service of the church. (Heb. 10:25.) Second, you should not let a day go by without reading or studying your Bible for a definite period of time. (II Tim. 2:15.) Third, bolster your spiritual strength every day by prayer. Prayer should be offered to God at special times during each day and your life should be lived in a spirit of prayer always. (I Thess. 5:17.) Fourth, please feel free to bring your questions or problems to some more mature Christian who can assist you when difficulties do arise. (I Pet. 1:22,23.) These are but preliminary suggestions that will form the basis for a reasoned life of spiritual maturity without which you cannot continue to be pleasing in God's sight.
